

Reception News

The children in Reception Class have settled in so well that I wanted to share a few of their special moments with you all to give a glimpse of life as a Reception child at Kingstone.

Each day is full of exciting learning opportunities with plenty of time for self-initiated learning. The children are developing key personal, social and emotional skills each time they interact with adults and children in class. They are learning to share, communicate, listen and respond to others.
